

With absolute effrontery the Arkansas Gazette on Wednesday published an editorial telling the Arkansas Supreme Court what it ought to do about reapportioning state senate seats among the counties although the newspaper knew full well that the controversy is now before the court and due for decision next Monday.

The Gazette is in contempt of court. Every newspaperman knows it. The state's big morning paper is deliberately throwing its weight around trusting that (1) the supreme court will conveniently ignore the insult or (2) if cited for contempt the Gazette will expect the traditional solidarity of the press against judges to save it from conviction.

But in this instance the Gazette is committing itself with malice aforethought. It is pushing the senatorial appointment interest of big Pulaski county, and in doing so doesn't hesitate to compromise the reputation of the press as a whole for dealing fairly with the people and the courts.

Newspapers don't exempt judges and courts from criticism, but the time element determines whether this constitutes "fair comment" or "coercion." In my 30 years in this business I have always understood a newspaper has the right to criticize a court immediately after a decision. That is "fair comment." But to publish a pointed editorial on a Monday sitting is calculated contempt.

To believe otherwise is to run the risk of letting some newspaper in the capital city brow-beat judges who are presumed to decide the public interest on the disclosed facts and statutory law.

The Gazette's trifling with American justice is the greatest piece of editorial arrogance and journalistic selfishness for its home county that I have ever encountered—and it ought to be slapped down by the nine justices who sit up there in Little Rock under the great seal of the people of Arkansas.

Hempstead county has particular cause to feel outraged by the Gazette's smear—and particular reason for wanting a hearing in Little Rock that is guaranteed to be free from coercion. In its editorial last Wednesday, titled "Is Reapportionment Such a Hard Job?", the Gazette pushed before the attention of the court its own private plan for allocating senatorial seats—a plan which infuriates every thinking citizen of our county.

The Gazette recommended placing Hempstead county alone with Miller county, to be represented by a single senator.

The Gazette has been pushing this plan for many months, and we have fought it every step of the way.

Obviously Miller county, because of its larger population, would always elect a Miller county man as state senator. And because Miller county is exempt from paying the state sales tax that senator would care how high the sales tax rate might be fixed by the legislature.

Miller county would fix the rate of sales tax that Hempstead county would pay—and Miller county would get the money.

Once we had a revolution because of taxation without representation—and now the Arkansas Gazette proposes to wrap up the 1951 version without even a fair court hearing.

By the way, what country is this?

Former Hope Man Has Book Published

Fayetteville, Ark. — George W. Ware, who was on the staff of the University of Arkansas College of Agriculture for 17 years, is the author of a book on German and Austrian porcelain which has just been published in Germany.

Mr. Ware was appointed assistant director of the University's Fruit and Truck Branch Experiment station at Hope when it was established in 1926. He left in 1943 to become agricultural and educational advisor in the American Zone of Germany. Since then his interest as an amateur ceramics collector has been greatly stimulated as he became acquainted with German porcelain and had an opportunity in his spare time to study and collect representative porcelains of the 18th Century period.

Some pieces from his own collection are illustrated in the book, as well as selection from the collections of 23 museums and 17 private collectors and manufacturers. In addition to the nearly 200 illustrations of representative objects, the book contains reproductions of identifying marks found on German and Austrian porcelain, and a discussion of the history, politics, and intrigue associated with the development of the industry. Separate editions have been printed in English and German.

A son, George W. Ware Jr., is attending the University of Arkansas this year, doing graduate work in entomology.

Bobcats Maul Nashville 32-6 to Even Series

Hope Bobcats outclassed the Nashville Scorpions in an annual Thanksgiving Day contest here yesterday by a decisive 32 to 6 score.

Led by Kenneth Stone Hope rolled up a 20 to 7 halftime lead that was never threatened. Stone was the show of the first half, going 22 yards for one touchdown and 8 for the second.

Nashville threatened in the first minutes when a fumble was picked up and raced to the Hope 1. It was bucked across but a penalty nullified the play and shortly after Hope took over, marching straight down the field for a tally. Bright kicked extra point. The drive covered 95 yards.

Nashville's score came in the second quarter on a 55-yard pass play, Sharp to G. Ross. Callahan converted.

With 10 seconds remaining in the first half, Orville Beight, the steadiest runner of the day, crashed off right tackle for 10 yards to score.

Stone opened up the scoring in the third period on a beautiful 65 yard scamper, his third tally of the day. Shortly after Clyde Arnold turned in some fine broken field running for a 55-yard gain to the Nashville 5, but a penalty called it back.

Yocum made a beautiful catch of Stanford's pass on the Nashville 5 and England took a short loss on the next play for Hope's final tally.

The game ended the season for both clubs and gave each team 12 wins in the current series dating back to the 20s.

Hope defensive standouts were Byers, Barbee, Camp, Neal, Williams, Wiggins and Doyle. Yocum was the best pass receiver of the day, taking 3 of 5.

First downs were Hope 13, Nashville 6. The Bobcats gained 300 yards rushing to 72 for Nashville. Hope completed 7 of 12 passes and Nashville made 4 of 16 good with 3 interceptions; Hope drew 132 yards on 15 penalties and Nashville 4 for 30 yards. Hope fumbled 5 times, recovered one, Nashville 3 times recovered one.

Yesterday's win gave the Bobcats a season record of 7 victories against 5 defeats.

Lions, Kiwanis Clubs to Meet Jointly Tuesday

The Hope Lions Club and the Kiwanis Club of Hope will hold a joint meeting next Tuesday noon, November 27, at the Hotel Barlow.

It was announced that Congressman Owen Harris of El Dorado would be the featured speaker. Congressman Harris has not announced the subject of his address.

In view of the joint meeting the Lions Club's regular luncheon on Monday will not be held.

It is anticipated that some of the Congressman's friends who are not members of either the Lions Club or the Kiwanis Club would like to attend the joint meeting to hear Congressman Harris' speech. Any individual wishing to attend should contact Clifford Franks, program chairman of the Kiwanis Club who arranged the joint get together, before noon Monday.

Winty Weather Is Spreading

By The Associated Press
The East and the South got their promised relief from cold weather but it was wintry weather for Midwest and western states today.

Cold air extended over the upper Great Lakes region, the upper Mississippi valley and most of the north and central plains states. It was on the chilly side westward to the Pacific coast.

Three Persons Injured in Accidents Here

Three accidents in Hope during the past two days left three persons injured, two were taken to a hospital for treatment.

A taxicab and a large dirt truck owned by Hope Brick Works collided at 8th and Main. Hugh Bearden, driver of the cab, was shaken up considerably and a passenger, Essie Pennington, was injured. Both were treated at a local hospital.

Driver of the truck, Don Fagan, was arrested following the accident for failure to have a chauffeur's license.

Late Wednesday at 6th and Washington an auto driven by Mrs. Russell Carver collided with another driven by Edward R. Adams of Fulton. Mrs. Carver received severe cuts on her legs.

A truck driven by Mrs. Jimmie Cook hit a light post yesterday near Yeager school, damaging the front of the vehicle and pulling wires loose on the post.

All vehicles involved were considerably damaged, investigating city officers said.

Trapped Driver Directs His Own Rescue

San Francisco, Nov. 23 (AP)—Trapped almost five hours in icy ocean waters, William Wood directed his own rescue from one of his bars that pinned him to the wreckage.

The 45-year-old Wood worked two ordinary auto jobs to lift iron bars that pinned him to the wreckage of a sunken barge near the Golden Gate.

Searchlights were played on the scene, 14 miles off land's end, and scores watched from shore as Wood was lifted aboard his ship, The Salvager, at 7:30 last night.

Although he was rushed unconscious to a decompression chamber for treatments against the bends, Wood was found suffering only from shock and exposure.

He told reporters he had started salvage operations "some money for Christmas" for his wife and two daughters in Santa Barbara, Calif. He was seeking to recover brass and copper from a barge that sank off Land's End years ago.

About 2:30 p. m., the tide pushed iron bars over him and pinned his legs and feet. Wood was wearing full divers' equipment. He was 25 feet below the surface.

After an hour's struggle, he phoned the salvager crew to send distress signals.

The coast guard brought the eight-pound jacks. They were lowered according to instructions from Wood. After hours of careful maneuvering, Wood dislodged the bars, only to be caught by other debris on the way up.

The veteran diver moved that and the crew hauled him up, taking 10 minutes because of the pressure difference.

"This is one of the closest scrapes I've ever had no, not the worst," he said afterward. "I came closest to eternity off Africa one time." He did not relate that experience.

This time, he added, "I thought I'd made it back up."

Wood said he has spent several years hunting for sunken ships from which to salvage metal fittings. Last summer he hunted for the wreckage of a Spanish ship which has been at the bottom of the ocean 350 years.

Balloon Nearly Dissolves Talks

Panmunjon, Korea, Nov. 23 (AP)—A leaky 16-foot balloon almost broke up today's cease-fire negotiations here.

Huge Moonshine Still Seized in Raid Near Hope

Late Thanksgiving eve state and federal alcoholic officers raided a farm 5 miles northeast of Hope and seized one of the largest moonshine liquor stills ever taken in this section.

The still was in a temporary tin-covered shed and its capacity was between 750 and 1000 gallons. Also seized was 146 gallons of moonshine liquor and 70 barrels of mash.

Officers arrested Mr. and Mrs. Glen Erwin as they drove out from the farm in a truck carrying 100 gallons of liquor. The other 46 gallons was found at the still.

As officers approached the still one man fled. He was later picked up near the farm by State Officers Hilton and Downing.

He was listed as James A. Donaham of Hot Springs.

Officials said Erwin and his wife are originally from Hot Springs and had leased the farm, known as the old Walker place, just recently. The farm has been under police surveillance for some time.

Participating in the raid were Officers Turner and Bishop of the alcoholic tax unit and state officers Milton Mosier and Travis Ward.

The trio will be given a hearing in federal court at Texarkana.

Student Jobs on Holidays Being Studied

It was announced today that a concerted effort is being made by the Vocational Guidance Department of Hope High School and the Arkansas State Employment Service to secure employment for high school students during the Christmas holidays.

Merchants, employers or business establishments who might have need of extra help during the holiday season are requested to notify either Horace Hubbard, Vocational Guidance Director of the Hope Schools, or Teddy Jones, Manager of the local employment office.

Hubbard indicated that about twenty to twenty five high school students, both boys and girls, experienced and inexperienced, would be available for employment following the closing of schools for the holidays December 18th.

SHelly WINTERS NAMED

Hollywood, Nov. 23 (AP)—HOLLYWOOD Magazine announced today that its editors will name blonde Shelley Winters as "actress of the year" during a luncheon ceremony here Dec. 7.

New York (AP)—"Twice the day after Thanksgiving, Wilbur Peckie looked pretty feeble as he tottered into the office of his wife's favorite psychiatrist.

"This is a surprise!" said Dr. Libidosis. "I was expecting Mrs. Peckie."

I decided to fill Trellis Mae's appointment for her today," said Wilbur.

"H-m-m, that's rather unusual, I must say. But lie down and take the load off your mind."

Wilbur took off his shoes and sank exhausted on the couch. He sighed tiredly.

Lions Invite Civic Clubs to Pool Yule Gift Funds

The Hope Lions Club Christmas Gift committee has invited other local civic groups to join the club in distributing packages to needy families.

Asked to meet with the Lions at 7:30 tonight at Hope City Hall are gift committees from the WOW, Kiwanis, Rotary, VFW and American Legion.

It is a plan of the Lions to pool funds and avoid conflict in passing out gifts during Yule season. The Lions recently made $1,600 for this purpose in a radio auction.

Australians Have Way to Make Rain

Pasadena, Calif., Nov. 23 (AP)—Australian scientists have discovered a new and better way to produce rain artificially. The method is so surprisingly simple it's a wonder nobody thought of it before.

All they do is spray low hanging clouds with water. It's like fighting fire with fire—only with reverse English. And the system is so effective it takes merely one ton of water sprayed on the base of a rain cloud to produce one million tons of rain!

Dr. E. G. Bowen, a physicist member of the Australian commonwealth scientific and research organization, described the new technique yesterday in a speech at the California Institute of Technology. With it, the aussies hope to convert their vast desert into fertile farmlands.

Up to now, clouds have been seeded with dry ice or silver iodide crystals to make it rain. Dr. Bowen said the water method is more effective, especially under conditions encountered in his country.

"We could carry five tons of water in a medium sized bomber," he explained. "That should be enough to make some 5 million tons of rainfall. But I wish to emphasize that thus far in our painstaking research we have used only a few hundred pounds of water at a time. We sprayed that from DC-3 airplanes."

He said two more years of basic research may be necessary to learn all the facts and possibilities of the water spray system, but added:

"Results of these experiments are most promising. I'm convinced that similar results could be obtained in the United States."

He said the new technique works particularly well on warm, low hanging clouds characteristic of Australia and other South Pacific regions.

Many Husbands Would Like to Know Why the Wife Can't Seem to Stand His Family

By HAL BOYLE
New York (AP)—"Twice the day after Thanksgiving, Wilbur Peckie looked pretty feeble as he tottered into the office of his wife's favorite psychiatrist.

"This is a surprise!" said Dr. Libidosis. "I was expecting Mrs. Peckie."

"H-m-m, that's rather unusual, I must say. But lie down and take the load off your mind."

Wilbur took off his shoes and sank exhausted on the couch. He sighed tiredly.

"Now, just start talking," said Dr. Libidosis soothingly. "Say anything that comes into your mind."

"I came to see you about our Thanksgiving Day party yesterday, doc. I had my family over for dinner—mother, Brother Elmo, Brother Clarence, his wife, Fay, and their two kids, and my Sister Gloria and her boy friend, Roscoe. I think it's nice to have the family get together like that on holidays, don't you doc?"

Accused Slayer Hidden From Gathering Mob

Wilson, N. C., Nov. 23 (UP)—Authorities whisked a Negro convict here for safekeeping last night after "lynch fever" built up over the shotgun slaying of a young farmer and the abduction of his pretty wife.

Beaufort County Deputy Sheriff Jack Harris said LaFayette Miller "very probably would have been lynched" had he been kept in the vicinity of Washington, D. C., 55 miles from here.

The 21-year-old Negro, paroled from a burglary sentence over the protests of Beaufort county lawmen, admitted he killed Harvie Boyd for his automobile, then kidnapped Boyd's wife to keep her from spreading the alarm.

Miller was first jailed at Greenville, N. C., 20 miles west of Washington, but was spirited here under cover of darkness as tension mounted among the angered townspeople of Washington.

The 20-year-old Mrs. Boyd, clad only in a sheer nightgown and blue jeans, was rescued from the trunk of the car after state troopers halted Miller to check his driver's license.

Shaking from fear and the 25-degree cold, she sobbingly told troopers Miller came to their home house at Chocowinity crossroads and felled her husband with one blast from a double-barreled 12-gauge shotgun.

She said her husband was standing beside a stove winding his watch when the blast ripped through a window, dropping him to the floor.

"I screamed for him to turn out the light," she said. "He answered 'I can't.'"

Mrs. Boyd said Miller shouted for her to bring the car keys to him. He forced her to drive the family car a short way, then made her get into the trunk.

She said the Negro lay on the floor in the back of the car as she drove, saying "If the white folks see me riding with you they'll get me."

She said the Negro did not molest her.

Electric Train Wreck to Be Investigated

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—Officials began investigating today the Thanksgiving morning collision of two electric trains moving abreast through a narrow tunnel under Park avenue.

Twenty-seven passengers were injured yesterday, two of them critically, as two eight-car New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad trains sideswiped in an impact of crunching steel and flying glass.

Although the trains were moving north at only 10 miles an hour, the crash caused parts of the trains to smash against opposite sides of the tunnel while one coach ripped through a concrete retaining wall.

Involved in the accident were a local headed for Stamford, Conn., and an express bound for New Haven, Conn.

Many of the 1,100 passengers aboard the two trains were bound for holiday destinations.

Near-panic in one wrecked coach was averted by air for Sgt. Russell E. Harper of Chicago who suffered a knee injury. Harper said:

"I saw glass flying around and I got up and slapped some people when they looked like they were about to get out of hand."

"Women were screaming and a man and wife were trapped under their seat. I smelled fumes and I had some girls break some windows."

The crash occurred at 50th street and Park avenue. That part of the tunnel holds four sets of rails and is a converging point for 32 sets of upper and lower level tracks originating from Grand Central terminal.

Following the wreck, emergency aid came fast. The third rail current was turned off quickly. Police, fire and hospital units raced to the scene within 10 minutes.

Nurses, firemen and police scrambled down a winding, narrow staircase to the wreck scene. The more seriously injured were moved by stretcher along a catwalk and taken up the stairway. Many passengers were covered with soot and grime. Some elderly women cried and moaned as they were led to safety.

Munsan, Korea, Nov. 23 (AP)—Truce negotiators reached agreement on a buffer zone clause today, opening the way for a possible armistice in Korea by Christmas.

"We have reached agreement so far as the wording is concerned," Rear Adm. Arleigh Burke, U. N. command submarine, told correspondents.

"The only thing left now is for the line officers who are working on the map to finish."

Agreement on the buffer zone clause came at the 20th subcommittee meeting in Panmunjon.

If the agreement is approved by the full truce delegations, as expected, negotiators would have to solve three other problems: supervision of the armistice, exchange of prisoners and recommendations to the belligerent governments.

Fighting will continue in the war now 17 months old, until all of the points are settled.

Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodges, chief U. N. command submarine, indicated the full five-point agreement could meet Sunday morning. He said the agreement would be formalized by the line officers.

Staff officers Friday at a mapping the actual line of contact. This is to become a formal cease-fire line. If an armistice is signed within 30 days, Hodges said they may complete the job Saturday.

"We are waiting until word is time is appropriate to meet and make we hope something tomorrow (Saturday) during the final settlement on the line," Hodges said.

The staff officers met today, 10 a. m. Saturday (8 p. m. EST).

Hodges said that if the line officers disagree on just one battle-line, the subcommittee will settle the dispute.

Final approval of the truce agreement was delayed during today's 50 minute session because Communist delegates wanted to check the translation into Chinese and Korean of the U. N. command revision of the Reds' own cease-fire proposals.

The cease-fire line will be drawn just before an armistice is signed. Then both armies will pull back to create a buffer zone 1-2 miles wide.

The plane states specifically the war will continue during the 30-day period.

Brig. Gen. William F. Noyes, official U. N. command spokesman, said the agreement would be signed "greatly what they want" at the beginning of the month.

Friday's agreement followed U. N. command concessions.

In their original 30-day armistice proposal, the Reds had asked that the cease-fire line be drawn before the deadline, a line that would be drawn. The Reds stated that instead the line would be drawn just before the armistice was signed to include changes may result through battle.

The U. N. delegates accepted the Reds' proposal. The Reds had abandoned the idea that any cease-fire line might become a "dead" psychologically. U. N. delegates have said they feared the would stall the armistice, terminally if such a line set.

British Home Guard Approved
 London, Nov. 23.—Prime Minister Churchill's plan to form a 125,000-man peacetime home guard received house of commons approval last night. Commons okayed the measure unanimously, on a voice vote.
 War Minister Anthony H. Head said the prime purpose of reviving the World War II guard would be to protect key factories and airports and to aid the civil defense force in case of enemy air attack.
 Head stressed that the measure was not being brought up because the government thought war was "any more likely."

CONFUSION of CREATION

How interesting are the workings of God! He takes the nucleus, the cell, the molecule and the protoplasm and forms staggering miracles. He even takes bodies who have gone almost to Hell and makes men out of them. The laboratories and the human bodies are His work shops. It was He who pulled the switch that set it all to work.

You In The Church
 The Church In You—
 Form a combination for good. We should attend church regularly. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the CHURCH. Be Faithful! Be a Churchman.

True science and true religion never conflict. God does not contradict Himself. His words and His works harmonize. Modern knowledge compels the revision of the theory that the earth is flat and that the sun daily revolves around it. Yet, it remains true that... "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth." Religion once declared the work of creation was completed in six days of twenty-four hours each, and outlined in detail the creative process. With increased knowledge teachers are much less dogmatic as to time involved and procedures followed. God is still saying... "My thoughts are not as your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways."

His church is a good place to learn that fancied discords blend in harmony. Increasing numbers of people are able to see through His microscope... "tongues in trees, books in running brooks, sermons in stones, and good in everything." Every scientific finding by man is rooted in God. This is the confusion of creation.

Mixed Marriage

Dear Miss Dix: About six months ago I met a girl with whom I have fallen in love. I haven't seen her too often as she lives quite a distance from me, but we have maintained a regular correspondence. I have asked her to marry me, but we are of different religions. She will not change her religion, and I don't care to change mine, either. I have suggested that we marry and live our own lives as far as religion is concerned.

Answer: It is a fallacy to assume as you do, that religion can be shut into the background of marriage and remain there, completely ignored. People of different faiths cannot be married at all without one of them making a concession — not a compromise! The ceremony must be performed in one creed or the other — one party must give way! One family will be hurt, one church will frown upon the marriage! These are facts that cannot be hidden, cannot be overlooked. A couple of contemplating mixed marriage should consult with clergymen on both faiths involved; they will be frankly shown the obstacles to be overcome, the problems to be encountered. They will be warned of the difficulties ahead, and should heed the warnings!

The solution definitely will not be to disregard the admonitions and proceed on the always dangerous, always fallacious theory that "we can live our own lives!"

Religion Basic to Family

Religion is — or should be — an inherent factor in everyone's background. It should be the very foundation of a new family. Youngsters should be taught their prayers as soon as they can talk; they should be inculcated with the truth of faith before they learn their ABCs.

A heated family argument as to what prayers, what church, what faith can destroy the harmony of a home almost before it is established. All these problems should be settled before two people of different faiths marry. They are not to be lightly discarded in the beginning, for they will sooner or later have to be faced.

You have not known your girl friend very long and having seen her so seldom you cannot even be sure of your mutual love. You are therefore beset with much room for doubt. Consider all your problems talk them over with your clergyman and with hers. Don't marry at all until and unless agreements can be made covering all points that will occur in your future.

Dear Miss Dix: I'm 18 and engaged to be married. Is it proper for the boy to give the girl money for her wedding outfit? It has been done in my home town several times, and is now considered a custom.

Despondent Musician Shoots Himself

Glendale, Calif., Nov. 23 (AP) — A despondent musician shot himself in the back last night and the bullet, after passing through his body, struck down his father, too, police reported.

Both father and son were hospitalized in critical condition. Officers said it happened this way.

Richard J. Ebreke, Jr., 41, cello player, snatched a .38 caliber pistol from the holster of his brother, Joseph, a night watchman, as the latter prepared to leave for work.

Richard held the gun behind his back and, facing his father, pulled the trigger. The bullet struck the father in the stomach.

Officers said Richard Jr. had been in a mental hospital and described the shooting as a suicide attempt. They said he apparently had no intention of shooting his father.

Joseph, 40, owner of the gun, was booked on a technical charge of suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder.
